THE PREPARATION OF MEN AND WOMEN AS USEFUL MEMBERS OF SOCIETY HAS ALWAYS BEEN THE AIM OF MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE.

WITH THIS IDEAL IN MIND THE ADMINISTRATION HAS SO CAREFULLY PLANNED THE CURRICULUM THAT IT HAS NEVER SUBORDINATED CULTURAL DEVELOPMENT TO VOCATIONAL TRAINING, HOLDING THAT "IT IS THE BUSINESS OF A LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE TO PREPARE MEN AND WOMEN FOR CAREERS, NOT JOBS."

AN ACTIVE INTEREST IN SUCH STUDENT ACTIVITIES AS ATHLETICS, SOCIAL CLUBS, PUBLICATIONS, AND OTHER CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS IS ENCOURAGED, FOR THESE ACTIVITIES TEACH THE STUDENT TO PLAN AND BUILD AND WORK COOPERATIVELY.

MIDDLEBURY ALSO SPONSORS PURELY SOCIAL ACTIVITIES—DANCES, TEAS, RALLIES, HOLIDAY WEEK-ENDS; ALL ARE TRULY AN ESSENTIAL PART OF COLLEGE LIFE. THEY PROVIDE EXPERIENCE IN THE USAGES OF GOOD SOCIAL CONDUCT.

A YEAR OF LIFE AT MIDDLEBURY IS RECORDED IN THIS BOOK. THE AIM OF THE EDITORS HAS BEEN TO SHOW HOW HER STUDENTS ARE FULFILLING THE PURPOSE OF A MIDDLEBURY EDUCATION—BECOMING USEFUL MEMBERS OF SOCIETY. IN THE PAGES TO FOLLOW WE WILL SHOW THAT MIDDLEBURY UNDERGRADUATES ARE TRULY GOING TO COLLEGE WITH A PURPOSE . . .

While the day-by-day events in the lives of the Middlebury undergraduate seem to him to be of momentous importance, his eyes are actually on the much greater, visionary accomplishments to be achieved in the future. Although sincere and earnest in his participation in undergraduate activities, his ultimate purpose is to receive a true and worthwhile preparation for living. Thus this symbol: Middlebury—for the moment, all-important; the future—visionary, indefinite, but broader and greater and more purposeful.
We Dedicate This Book....

To the hardy settlers who worked and sacrificed that an institution of higher learning might be established in their village; to their sons and daughters, who kept alive that spark of intellectual zeal; and to the present generation, whose interest and cooperation has done much to further the purpose of the original founders. To express appreciation for nearly 140 years of generosity and service, we take pleasure in dedicating this book...

Academics
Over fifty years ago Middlebury's President, Ezra Brainerd, wrote, "My ideal of a college is one that insists on a complete symmetrical knowledge of the fundamental laws of all nature, a comprehensive survey of the best in all literature and a general acquaintance with the great principles that should regulate all human conduct." In a true preparation for living these things are essential. This phase of college life, which we choose to title Academics, is represented here by administration, faculty, and classes.

Athletics
Good sportsmanship, teamwork, and the ability to give and execute orders are essential in modern living. These qualities, together with a healthy, well-coordinated body, are to be developed through participation in the sports which Middlebury sponsors.
The Athletic Council regulates and promotes all intercollegiate and intramural athletic activities. It awards varsity letters, approves the election of managers and captains, and administers all athletic funds. Membership consists of the director of athletics, five faculty members, one alumnus, the president of the Undergraduate Association, captains of the major sports, and of the minor sports in season.

This year, among other proposals, the Athletic Council developed a plan for assistant managership which was adopted by vote of the student body. The new plan provides for the election of two assistant managers in each sport, replacing the old system of having but one selected from the group of tryouts.

With the exception of football, all fall and winter sports select two scrubs from the sophomore class to be assistant managers during their junior year, with one of them eventually gaining the managership for the senior year. In spring sports, however, scrubs are selected from the freshman class, and managers, therefore, are to be members of the junior class.

The Council recently acted upon a petition to make winter sports a major venture. The petition was circulated by members of the men's college, and the approval is the first of its kind in the athletic history of Middlebury.
The Women's Athletic Association has a council which acts as an executive board of the various activities in the field of sports. The members of the Council consist of the officers of the organization, the heads of sports in their respective seasons, and a freshman representative. Sports heads are chosen from the women in the two upper classes who have been outstanding in the various athletic contests.

Winter sports, under the guidance and jurisdiction of the W. A. A. Council, has helped boost the Winter Carnival to a higher level. A women's meet was held this year, consisting of downhill and slalom races. Twelve eastern colleges participated in these events, sending two delegates each. The Student Union cooperated with the W. A. A. Council in entertaining the visitors, and a banquet was given them at the Middlebury Inn where awards and speeches were made.

Two playdays were held with U. V. M. this year, under the guidance of the W. A. A. Council. The Vermont girls journeyed to Middlebury during the hockey season, and the visit was returned during the winter sports season. Fourteen W. A. A. members played basketball, badminton, and ping-pong with the Vermont women. The spirit of fun rather than competition reigns over these meetings because the opportunity for rivalry is eliminated by avoiding the formation of individual Middlebury or Vermont teams.

Taking the potato league championship for the third consecutive time, the Panther varsity climaxd an in-and-out season by taking a thrilling finale, 7-0, from the University of Vermont on Porter Field.

Although seriously handicapped by injuries, especially in the early games, the Blue and White managed to win five of their eight games. Ed King and Johnny Golembeske saw almost no action all year while such important cogs in the Panther machine as Berry, Vartuli, Carr, Mahoney, Johnson, Thomas and Bertuzzi were all slowed down by the injury jinx at some point during the campaign.

The loss of the great backfield of Chalmers, Boehm, Guarnaccia, and Liljenstein, which sparked the 1937 team, left the coaching staff a serious problem; but the 1938 line, developed by Coach Akerstrom, more than made up for the green backfield. Berry came up from the freshman team to replace Winslow at end, Stabile filled Golembeske's vacated center post, and Profy and Murray took over at the tackles for the graduates, Anderson and Cridland. Captain Kirk, Vartuli and Jaques were the holdovers from the previous season in the line.

WILLIAMS 13—MIDDLEBURY 0

In a somewhat ragged opener the Middlemen fumbled their way to a 13-0 defeat at the hands of Williams College at Williamstown.

Williams led 7-0 at the half by virtue of Durrell's second-period score. After holding the gates during the first period when the Purple advanced to the Middlebury six-yard stripe, the Beckmen's defenses failed as the diminutive Williams back took the ball over from the eight-yard line. The kick for the point was good.

In the third period Durrell hit his stride again with a thirty-four-yard runback which put the ball in position for the clinching Williams score. A pass and three line plays took it over with Pete Seay carrying. The Panthers missed scoring opportunities in the second and fourth quarters. Mahoney-to-Kirk passes brought the ball to the Purple six in the second period but the attack bogged down. In the fourth running plays carried to the Williams eighth, but an intercepted pass relieved the pressure for the Little Three team.
FOOTBALL

MIDDLEBURY 8—HARTWICK 6

With Mahoney, Jaques, and Golembeske sidelined, the Beckmen were forced to struggle to win an 8-6 victory from little Hartwick. After Capt. Johnny Kirk had given the home team a 2-0 advantage in the first few minutes of play when he tackled a Hartwick punter for a safety, the New Yorkers came back in the third period to score on a pass and go into the lead. Van Gaasbeek’s last-minute plunge for a touchdown finally brought about the Blue and White victory.

Following Kirk’s safety, the Panther attack, which started fast, seemed to collapse. During the second and third periods the New Yorkers forced the play and led 6-2 at the end of the third period. Sparked by Boyd Carr, a rejuvenated Midd team came out for the fourth quarter which was climaxed when Harry Van Gaasbeek plunged over from the one-foot stripe.

MIDDLEBURY 7—COAST GUARD 0

Another underdog nearly turned the tables on the Panthers when the Coast Guard Academy squad finally dropped a 7-0 decision on Porter Field after threatening the Middlebury goal line with aerials all afternoon. Jack Johnson, playing in his first game as a varsity regular, crashed over from the one-foot line in the second period for the lone score of the game.

At the start of the second quarter the Blue and White began a sustained drive down the field which culminated in the winning touchdown. Carr, Tupka, Mayo, and Johnson were the ball carriers, with Johnson finally going over. Jaques converted with a pretty placement to make the count 7-0.

MIDDLEBURY 10—TUFTS 0

Stretching their winning streak to three the Middlebury gridsters took the Jumbos of Tufts into camp at Medford, Mass., to the tune of 10-0. A combination of great defensive play and the kicking of Art Jaques humbled Tufts for the first time since the 1925 season.

Kirk’s recovery of a kick which he himself blocked gave the Blue and White a scoring opportunity in the opening quarter. The attack bogged down, however; but an even better opportunity came when Jack Johnson intercepted a pass and ran the ball back to the Jumbos’ five. After two line plays failed, Jaques dropped back to the eighteen and gave the Middmen a three-point lead with a perfectly kicked field goal.

Coffin-corner kicking by Jaques kept the Tufts team deep in their own territory for the remainder of the game. Another blocked punt set up the Panther touchdown late in the last quarter. It was again Johnny Kirk who made the break which allowed Mahoney to toss a flat pass to Bill Mayo in the end zone for the score. Bull Murray came out of the line to convert and make the final count 10-0.

MIDDLEBURY 9—NORWICH 0

Opening their quest for the state crown, the Panthers journeyed to Northfield where they won a 9-0 victory over a stubborn Cadet outfit. Art Jaques again gave the Blue and White a three-point margin early in the third period, but it was a last-quarter touchdown which finally blasted the Norwich hopes.

The first two periods found the teams seesawing back and forth with the burden resting on the rival punters, Jaques and Dedrick. Both teams threatened but the lines held to prevent a score and the half ended in a scoreless tie.

After Tupka’s recovery of a fumble, Jaques dropped back to his thirty-one and place-kicked a beautiful field goal. After a Johnson interception in Norwich territory, the Middlebury backs took the ball from the Cadets’ thirty-five over the last white stripe in eight running plays with Mahoney slanting off tackle for the tally.

CONN. STATE 13—MIDDLEBURY 0

Breaking the Panthers’ winning streak, the Connecticut State Wolves defeated Middlebury 13-0 on the Porter oval.
Although the Beckmen’s line consistently outtouched the opponents’ forwards, the backs were unable to push over a touchdown. A pass and a blocked kick gave the Wolves their scoring opportunities.

The game started at a fast pace with the Connecticut team boring to the Panther ten-yard stripe by means of Donnelly’s passes. The line held but the Wolves were soon on the offensive again. Late in the second quarter a pass play gave Connecticut the ball on the Middlebury five and Donnelly circled the end for the score. Jaques blocked the try for point, but Donnelly scooped up the live ball and ran it over to make the score 7-0 at the half.

Late in the last quarter Kosikowsky, Natmegger tackle, blocked and recovered a Panther punt in the end zone to add to the Connecticut total.

COLBY 38—MIDDLEBURY 21

In a free-scoring battle at Waterville, Me., the Colby White Mules outran the Panthers to win by the unusual score of 38-21. A one-man football team in the person of Johnny Daggett licked the Middmen, but he was given a struggle for the honor by Middlebury’s quarterback, Johnny Mahoney.

With Daggett running wild and receiving excellent support from his running mate, Clyde Hatch, the Blue and White was never able to gain the lead. Their opportunity to do so came early as Jack Johnson carried to the four-yard line, but the ball was lost on downs.

Johnny Kirk scored for the Panthers on an end around play and added two more points when he tackled a Colby runner behind the goal line for a safety. Mahoney completed the Middlebury scoring with touchdown jaunts of ninety-five and fifty-four yards, while Daggett ran seventy-two, sixty-nine, and thirty yards for Colby touchdowns. The game marked the first collapse of the vaunted Midd line.

MIDDLEBURY 7—VERMONT 0

Ending his great football career with a superhuman catch, Capt. Johnny Kirk snatched victory from nowhere in the guise of a pass from Mahoney to give the Blue and White a 7-0 triumph over the University of Vermont, and also to win the state football crown for the third consecutive year. Kirk’s catch in the fading minutes of the game ended a bitterly fought contest which had seemed doomed to end in a scoreless deadlock.

A break came when Trigilio tried a fake kick from his own four-yard line. Slipped and fell. On the next play he punted to Tupka on the Vermont twenty-six, from which point Mahoney tossed the game-winning pass to Kirk, who made the seemingly impossible catch, followed by a fifteen-yard sprint for the score. Art Jaques converted to make it 7-0. A desperate last-minute passing attack by the Catamounts brought the ball to the Panther nine from their own thirty-two in four plays with Crossley tossing to Bill Pye. The whistle ended the drive and insured the Middlebury win.

Captain Kirk, central figure in the thrilling upset, led the Middlebury club to its unexpected triumph over the favored Vermonsters, while the line turned in the best game of its entire campaign.

MIDDLEBURY 0—UNION FROSH 7
MIDDLEBURY 6—KIMBALL UNION 13
MIDDLEBURY 0—VERMONT FROSH 20

WON 0—LOST 3
Playing an abbreviated three-game schedule the baby Panther football squad was unable to come through with a victory last fall. Bad breaks, chiefly in the form of injuries, handicapped John Nash’s charges as they dropped close decisions to Union’s freshman club and Kimball Union Academy while Vermont Green and Gold rolled over the Middmen to the tune of 20-0 in the season’s finale.

Although the team boasted several individual stars, the reserves were not quite able to maintain the pace when the starters were forced out of the game. The yearlings opened against the Union frosh at Schenectady and were beaten only in the last few minutes of play when the Garnet pushed over a touchdown to register a close 7-0 victory.

Union got off fast and the Middmen barely avoided being scored upon as they finally stopped a barrage of lateral-pass plays and end runs. Injuries began to take their toll as Tony Wislinski, center, and Ed Yeomans, end, were forced to leave the game. Despite this loss the Nashmen reached the Union twenty twice in the first half but failed to tally. Late in the fourth quarter a long pass and a series of running plays defeated the tired Panthers.

Stunned by an early attack which netted thirteen points for their opponents, the freshmen bowed to Kimball Union Academy at Meriden by a 13-6 score. First-period passes accounted for both K. U. A. scores and left the Middmen a serious problem. With Zydik doing most of the ball carrying, the Middmen advanced to the Academy’s four-yard stripe in the final period. With K. U. A. expecting a rush, Gignac faded back and flipped a short pass to Miller for the only Blue and White score of the game. Middlebury lost one other chance to score when Dixie Davis, Panther left guard, intercepted a pass and ran fifty-eight yards to the K. U. A. four. The attack was halted, however, and the whistle brought the prep school team a hard-fought 13-6 win.

With such important players as Mott, Gignac, and Prukop on the sidelines, the frosh dropped their traditional encounter to the baby Cats from Burlington 20-0. Scoring seven seconds before the half and four seconds before the end of the game, the Kittens found the Middmen a tough nut to crack. The first Vermont score came in the first period when Misty Rice broke through to block Zydik’s punt, while Corsonnes and Long scored the other U. V. M. points.

Capt. Tony Wislinski was the standout linesman all year with Kedmenec, Ross, Davis, Beach, Sanford, Young, and Yeomans all turning in nice games. Zydik, a triple threat, was the backfield ace, supported by Mott, Clapper, Gignac, Miller, and Cosgrove. Cosgrove and Sanford were comparatively unknown until first-string injuries sent them into the final game in which both starred.

Winning only two of their thirteen games, the Panther courtmen showed a sharp reversal from the form which brought them seven victories in the 1937-38 campaign. The loss of George Anderson and Johnny Chalmers and the absence of Kirk, Conley, and Boardman was only partially offset by such new faces as Jack Nugent, Ed Langey, and the freshmen, Zydik and Miller.

Nick Krauszer, sophomore center, was the team's high scorer with Capt. Johnny Mahoney and Togo Eriksson contributing their share of the work. The new guard combination of Langey and Nugent worked well after they had had time to function together.

Opening against Hartwick before the Christmas holidays, the Blue and White lost a 36-35 decision in the overtime period. Two more games went down on the wrong side of the record book as the Beckmen bowed to Williams by a 43-21 count and to Massachusetts State 39-25. Lack of reserves handicapped the Panthers in both these contests, with Nick Krauszer handling the brunt of the offensive work. On the second Massachusetts trip the team again met defeat twice, losing to Amherst 31-20 and to Clark University 41-24.

In the face of the continued string of Panther losses a win over the highly touted U. V. M. five seemed almost impossible. Yet with Krauszer and Mahoney in the leading roles the Middmen turned the tables on the Cats to win 38-37. With a 25-19 lead at the half the Panthers played inspired basketball to hold the lead and eke out the victory. While Krauszer was scoring eighteen points himself, he held Belardinelli, high-scoring Vermont center, to seven points. The Panthers solved the Burlington team's zone defense early in the game to run up their lead, but a last-minute Vermont rally nearly succeeded in turning the tide of the game.

After winning their second state series game from the Norwich Cadets 32-23, the Beckmen slumped in spite of the presence of the freshmen. Springfield and Wesleyan scored wins over them easily and little St. Michael's put them out of the running for the state championship with a pair of consecutive victories by scores of 45-18 and 35-25, after Norwich had evened their series, trimming the Panthers 34-21.

Again against the Catamounts, at Burlington this time, the Beckmen came within an ace of turning the tables again. This time the last-ditch Vermont rally was not too late; and in spite of Krauszer's fourteen points, the Cats snatched victory from the Middmen 31-29 in the dying moments of the game.

Captain Wyman
Hard hit by the loss of Capt. Bill Wyman, the Panther sextet struggled through the first part of its schedule sadly lacking in reserves; but, reinforced by members of the freshman class, made a somewhat better showing after midyears.

At Lake Placid, playing with only eight men, the Panthers dropped close decisions to Union 1-0 and Hamilton 2-0, but were swamped 8-1 by a superior Williams team when they were forced to play two games in one day. Although the tired wingers were unable to get going at Placid, the defense of Kinsey and Mayo at the points and Martin in the cage showed to advantage.

Immediately after vacation the Blue and White traveled to West Point where they lost to Army 3-0. Bob Martin in the Middlebury nets starred in the defeat, making fifty-five saves, many of them extremely difficult, after being hit in the eye by an Army shot in the opening period. The Nashmen were on the defensive throughout the game. On a three-game trip the sextet was snowed under by strong Northeastern and New Hampshire clubs, but turned in their first victory of the campaign over Colby 4-2. Jarrell and Hutton were the offensive stars of the win, each caging the disc twice.

Meeting the Dartmouth Indians, champions of the Quadrangular League, the sextet went down to a 12-1 defeat. On the home ice for the first time, they eked out a 3-2 victory over a mediocre Norwich team, with Kinsey, Hawes, and Hatton netting the Middlebury tallies. With Freshmen Alexander, Bates, Johnson, Ross, Lees, Wishinski, Davis and Ripa seeing service, the Middmen took the St. Michael's sextet into camp 5-2.

Against Union on the home ice the Panthers were again victorious, this time by a 4-1 count. The feature of the game, which Middlebury dominated throughout, was the excellent goal tending of Dud Holmes, Union star, who was badly injured halfway through the game. Traveling to American International College, the pucksters ran their winning streak to four games as they ran wild over the Springfield school to the tune of 13-3. Playing in the Boston Arena without the freshmen the next night, however, the weakened squad went down to a 5-1 defeat at the hands of M. I. T.

During Winter Carnival Week strong Colgate and Alumni squads won 2-0 and 7-3 victories, respectively, over the Nashmen. Ex-Coach Duke Nelson entirely dominated the Alumni battle, scoring four of his team's markers. Jarrell, Hutton, Reichert, Cobb, Hawes, Stabile, Berry, Kinsey, Mayo, and Martin were the upperclassmen who carried the burden during the first semester while Freshmen Ross, Alexander, Bates, Johnson, Wishinski, and Davis saw a great deal of service in the second semester.

WON 4—LOST 9
Although they won four consecutive state series games, including a 2-1 upset win over the University of Vermont, the Panther diamondmen's season last spring was somewhat of a failure since they lost their remaining nine games. The fact that five freshmen won letters is proof of the squad's lack of experience, a factor which handicapped Coach Nash greatly.

Gus Gustafson, a junior, and freshman Harry Van Gaasbeck were the team's leading hurlers with Sammy Bertuzzi, also a frosh, pitching when needed or playing in the outfield. Art Jaques handled the receiving end with Danny Cunningham and Steve Arnold as replacements. Both Cunningham and Arnold were used as utility outfielders. Two freshmen, D'Errico and Kister, took over the first-base and second-base jobs while the veterans Kirk and Captain Lins covered third and short, respectively. Outfield combinations were made from a group consisting of Anderson, Bertuzzi, Cook and Hogan.

Opening against Colgate, the Panthers fell victim to the pitching of George Sisler, Jr., son of the former big leaguer, and bowed 10-2. A four-run Colgate rally in the sixth salted the game away for the Raiders and brought Tracy to the box, replacing Gustafson. The trip was rounded out by a 12-3 defeat incurred at the hands of Ithaca College the following day. Seventeen Ithaca hits shelled Tracy and Van Gaasbeck, while the Middmen were held to four blows. Batting stars of the trip were Anderson and Kirk.

In a tight pitchers' duel on Porter Field, Robinson of Union edged out Gustafson 3-1, although Gus allowed only four hits to six by the Garnet twirler. A two-run rally in the ninth clinched the game for Union and the Blue and White came back to push their lone tally across in the same frame. On the following day Connecticut State took a 13-9 slug fest from the Nashmen, shelling three hurlers. A six-run Middlebury lead, gained in the first three innings, vanished in the face of a nine-run Nutmegger surge in the fifth.

Most disastrous trip for the Middmen was that taken to Williams and Boston College, who pinned 24-6 and 9-0 losses on the locals with painful ease. Back at home St. Lawrence handed the Blue and White their seventh consecutive loss by a 13-3 count setting the stage for the big surprise. With Gustafson hurling remarkable five-hit ball, the Middmen upset the heavily favored Catamount machine to win 2-1 in the tenth inning, with Kirk scoring from third on a wild pitch by Vermont's star hurler, Budzyna. With Van in the box, the Panthers then defeated the Norwich Horsemen 6-3, with Bertuzzi starring at the plate.

A pair of victories over St. Michael's, 11-3 and 12-6, made the Panthers a leading candidate for state championship honors. In order to insure victory, Larry Gardiner, Catamount coach, threw his star hurler, Budzyna, into the game to stop the Middmen. Ted was successful but only after a close battle which ended 5-3 in favor of the Vermonters. Gustafson pitched four-hit ball, but the Middmen's errors lost the game. A chance to tie U. V. M. for the title was lost at Northfield when the Panthers, held to a pair of singles when Johnny Kirk, dropped their finale to the Cadets 4-1.

Starting the season with a good nucleus composed of Capt. Red Williams, Jack Cridland, Ken Quackenbush, Bob Cushman, Ed King, and Paul Guarnaccia, all veterans of the 1937 campaign, the Middlebury track forces faced an optimistic season. The addition of Freshmen Jack Hicks and Fred Butler strengthened hopes for success.

The first meet at Wesleyan, however, resulted in a defeat for the Panthers by a score of 88-47. Jack Cridland starred in chalkling up a new Wesleyan and Middlebury record in the hammer when he hurled the ball 149 feet, 7½ inches to add three feet to the old Midd record. Jack Hicks also garnered a bit of glory when he lived up to pre-season promise by nosing out Wesleyan's Clarke in a 10.2 hundred.

An even more devastating defeat was pinned on the home tracksters when Williams won in the rain by a 92-43 score. The high spots of the meet were a one-two victory in the mile by Bob and Paul Cushman, and a first in the hammer, taken by consistent Jack Cridland. Because he was set back in the century for two false starts, Jack Hicks was forced to take a third, edging out Red Williams for the show spot.

A 72½-62⅔ defeat shattered the Panther hopes for an even split for the season when they met B. U. at Boston in the third meet of the campaign. Jackie Hicks, freshman flash, stole the show with a record-breaking 220, which was clocked in 22 flat. Charlie Hanson also shone as he pushed Doug Raymond to exceptional times in the quarter and half. Charlie himself was clocked in 50.1 and 2:00.6.

On May 18, a delegation of six cindermen went to Worcester for the E. E. I. C. A. meet and took fifth with a total of 17 points. Williams took second and third in the dashes, and Guarnaccia picked up a second in the broad, while Hanson lived up to expectations when he again forced Doug Raymond to a fast victory in the quarter.

The Brownmen tasted victory for the first time in the season's finale with Vermont on Porter Field. The 87½-47½ score showed the Panther supremacy over their upstate rivals. Jack Cridland bowed out of collegiate competition with a mighty record-smashing heave of 168 feet, 1½ inches in the hammer to tack more than 14 feet on his best previous effort. Jack Hicks also came through with a record-equalling 9.9 in the hundred. Both were Vermont state records.

Prospects for next year seem favorable, with a team built mainly around Hicks, Hanson, and Capt. Bob Cushman.

Sparked by a trio of freshman stars, the Panther skiers broke into the big time ski circles with a hard-earned victory in their home meet and the Williams meet and by placing well up among the leaders at Dartmouth and in the I. S. U. meet in Canada. Eddie Gignac, Ira Townsend, and Dwight Smith were the freshman additions who so ably aided Capt. Mel Carter, Bob Gale, and Moe Cole, the veterans.

At Lake Placid during the Christmas vacation Gignac won the downhill event and placed second to Johannsen of McGill in the jump. Other point winners for the Blue and White all-freshman squad, which placed fifth, were Ira Townsend with an eighth in the cross-country and Dwight Smith, who took eleventh spot in the slalom.

Without the benefit of the frosh, the Panther upperclassmen were sent down to defeat in the U. V. M. invitation meet by Dartmouth, Norwich and the Catamounts themselves. With Ira Townsend replacing Gignac in the starring rôle, since the blonde freshman was exhibiting in California at the time, the Middmen won two first places to take the Williams Carnival.

Townsend captured firsts in the slalom and cross-country and also took the Skimeister trophy awarded to the outstanding performer in the meet. Bob Gale and Moe Cole came through well to pile up enough points to assure a Middlebury victory.

Strengthened by Gignac’s return, the Middmen showed excellent balance in placing fourth in the important Dartmouth Carnival against the toughest competition in the East. Little Ed placed second to Litchfield of Dartmouth in the jumping and Ira Townsend came down the slalom trail to take fourth spot. Gale, Smith, Captain Carter and Cole all contributed their share of the Panther’s point total.

Under the best conditions in recent years Coach Schlatter’s team thrilled a large winter carnival crowd with a home meet victory over six opponents. Eddie Gignac was again the individual star for the Blue and White, placing second in the slalom and taking first honors in the jumping and downhill. Placing in the first ten in every event, Ira Townsend aided greatly in the locals’ win. Mel Carter turned in his finest performance of the season with Gale and Cole lending excellent support.

The securing of third place behind the Dartmouth A team and McGill varsity in the senior I. S. U. championships at St. Severe, Canada, marked the close of the successful season for the Panthers. Gignac’s win in the jump and Townsend’s fifth in the langlauf paced the squad, but every man again clicked to pile up the final point total.

With the doubles combination of Capt. Paul Buskey and Bill O'Keeffe pacing the squad, the Middlebury tennis team raced through a stiff twelve-match schedule, dropping decisions to Colgate and a crack Rutgers combination. The first doubles team of Buskey and O'Keeffe were undefeated and were invited to compete in the eastern intercollegiate doubles tournament at Yale University in June.

Although they lost the opener to Colgate at Hamilton, the Middmen forced the battle all the way. Five of the six singles matches were lost, but four of them were carried to three sets. Buskey won in the singles and the Kier-McDowell doubles team won as well as the number one doubles. The final saw Colgate victorious 6-3.

With Buskey, Kier and Crawford winning their singles encounters on rain-soaked courts, the Blue and White defeated R. P. I. at Troy 6-3. All three doubles combinations took their matches to insure Middlebury's victory. At Union the Garnet netmen put up a gallant battle before bowing to the Panthers 5-4. Although both Buskey and O'Keeffe lost their singles matches to the Union stars, Hawley and Dwore, they came back in the doubles to defeat them as a team. The Union duo had previously been undefeated in two years of fast tournament play. Kier, McDowell, and Silverman won singles victories and the Kier-MacDowell team came through in the doubles to provide the Cornwall charges with their winning margin.

Off on another three-game trip, the Middmen duplicated their first jaunt by winning two and dropping only one. Bard College was defeated at Annandale, N. Y., by a 5-1 score. The next day the strong City College of New York squad fell 6-3 victims to the Blue and White racqueteers. Again the Buskey-O'Keeffe doubles team came through with a win over a City College team which held a national rating. Tired by their two previous matches, the Panthers lost their second engagement of the season to a strong Rutgers squad by a 7-2 score. The first doubles combination kept up its winning ways with three straight triumphs on the tour.

U. V. M. brought her squad to Hepburn courts as a part of the Junior Week sports program, but the Panthers took a one-sided win from the Catamounts 9-0 to open their season at home. A 4-0 victory, shortened by a rainstorm, over St. Michael's and a 5-1 win over St. Lawrence completed the week's festivities for the Blue and White netmen. All the matches were won with comparative ease by the Panthers.

Springfield College was the next victim of the rampant Middmen, bowing 6-2 on the Hepburn courts. Buskey paced the Middmen with victories in the singles and with Bill O'Keeffe in the doubles. O'Keeffe and Kier also came through with singles wins. At Burlington the Cornwall team again took the measure of the Catamounts, this time 7-2 on rain-swept courts. The number two and the number three doubles lost the only matches of the meet.

Winning every match in straight sets, the Middmen wound up the season by trimming the Purple of St. Michael's 6-0 at Winooski. Buskey, O'Keeffe, Kier and MacDowell all won singles matches and combined to take the doubles and sweep the meet.
Cross-Country

Limited to only four meets by the withdrawal of Bard College from the schedule, the varsity cross-country dropped all its meets, including an impromptu one with the Middlebury freshmen over the freshman course. The Cushmans, Bob and Paul, Reynolds, Mercure, Post, and Goodhouse formed the nucleus of Coach Brown's squad.

The crack Union College squad took the measure of the Blue and White in their opening meet at Schenectady by the score of 17-38. Paul Cushman, diminutive distance runner, was the only Middman to place, taking fourth behind a trio of Garnet stars. Capt. Bob Cushman, in tenth place, was the next Panther runner to cross the finish line. A concrete course, very different from the soft turf of the golf links, hindered the Middlebury runners.

Featuring a tie for first between Kiliani of Williams and Paul Cushman, the Midd-Williams meet found the Blue and White dropping a close 26½-28½ decision to the Purple at Williamstown. Bob Cushman and Mercure were the next Midd runners to finish. Coming home, the squad lost to Rensselaer 23-32 with Bob and Paul Cushman taking third and fourth places, respectively. Post, ineligible until this meet, finished sixth.

Handicapped by the loss of Paul Cushman, Butler, and Goodell, the varsity bowed to the frosh 27-28 with Post setting a new course record of 18:46. In their final race against U. V. M., the harriers lost 20-35 with Bob Cushman, the first Panther in, taking fourth spot. Bob Post was lost by an illness which greatly injured the Blue and White's chances. Paul Cushman took fifth with Bob Reynolds finishing in seventh place to account for the other Middlebury points.

Meeting Union twice and Colgate twice, the Middlebury linksmen dropped all their matches to the New York schools. Handicapped by the wet Middlebury Country Club course which gave them little opportunity for practice, the Panther golfers were unable to get started. They were victors, however, in an impromptu match with the Rutland Country Club.

With Union as opponent, the first home meet saw the Panther going down to defeat 4-2. Riccio won his singles match while he and Jack Albert took their best ball to give the Middmen their two points. Against Union Capt. Dude Johnson carried his match to the twentieth green before dropping it, and against Colgate he went to the nineteenth before bowing. In general, however, the Panthers were helpless against the Raider linksmen who captured every point to gain their 6-0 victory.

Playing away from home, the Blue and White finally broke into the win column with a 5-1 decision over Rutland Country Club. At Union Johnson dropped his match 2 and 1 and Petrizzi lost 4 and 3. Little Ric went down 3 and 2, while his partner, Cashman, lost 4 and 3, the same score by which the Garnet captured both best balls to effect a 6-0 sweep of the match. At Colgate the next day the Middmen were able to fare no better than they had at Middlebury, again going down to a 6-0 defeat. Dude Johnson lost to Fay, the Colgate star, 3 and 2 while Petrizzi went down, 2 and 1, in the closest matches of the day.

Prospects for the 1939 team are only fair with the graduation of the Dude and Little Ric. Co-Captains Petrizzi and Cashman will carry the burden this year with Albert, Trask, Mahar, and possibly some freshmen filling in the gaps.
Indoor Relay

Boasting the best team to represent the College on the hill in winter indoor competition in the past few years, Coach Brown entered his mile relay team in three big meets this winter and was rewarded by seeing them win two and come very close to capturing the third. Jackie Hicks, crack sophomore sprinting star, was also entered in these meets, but bad breaks and injuries hurt his chances.

A terrific spurt by Anchorman Charlie Hanson gave Middlebury a two-yard victory over Tufts at the Prout Memorial Games in Boston. Although Hanson was behind when he took the baton, he overtook the Tufts runner to put Tufts second, followed by Massachusetts State and Worcester Polytechnic. Hicks finished third in his heat to Glickman of Syracuse and St. Pierre of Fordham, two crack sprinters.

In the B. A. A. games at Boston the relay team ran a dual race against Brown University which the Bruins won by a slim margin. Paul Cushman ran the second leg in the phenomenal indoor time of 51:1, picking up sixteen yards on his opponent. Charlie Hanson at anchor took the stick four yards behind and drew up within a yard of the Brown anchor man. Hicks was again unfortunate in his draw and lost to Herb Thompson and Burlingame of Yale.

At the Knights of Columbus meet at Providence, R. I., the Middmen drew Tufts and New Hampshire as opponents and won with the others following in that order. In his sprint heat Jackie Hicks fell, but was not seriously injured. With Cushman, Butler, and Hanson back next year, and Freshman Howie Schlieder available to take Thompson’s spot, prospects look good for the 1940 team.

For the first time the freshman cross-country schedule was extended beyond the customary meet with the U. V. M. plebes when a race with Vermont Agricultural College and a handicap race with the varsity were added. The Middlebury yearlings took over the varsity but they were unable to conquer the outside competition.

Outstanding among the freshman hurriers were Bill Goodell, Pete Stanlis, and Marvin Holdredge, all of whom turned in consistently good times over the freshman course. In the first meet against Vermont Agricultural College on the Middlebury course Bill Goodell came home the winner in 19:10, tying the course record held jointly by Bob Post and Ken McFadyen. The team, however, bowed to the Farmers 23-32 with Pete Stanlis taking fourth place. All of the Middlebury runners, except Holdredge, who finished tenth, turned in their best times up to that date.

Against the varsity Goodell lowered the record again, this time to 18:49, finishing second to Bob Post. Bob Cushman took third place for the varsity, with Holdredge capturing fourth for the frosh. Post finished in 18:46, but since he was not a freshman at the time the record will not be credited to him but to Goodell. Beaten for the first time all season, Bill Goodell took third place in the U. V. M. freshman meet behind the Webster twins, Cata-mount stars. Mary Holdredge captured fifth place for the Panthers, Ken Lawrence took seventh and Howie Schlieder came in tenth.

The Women's Athletic Association of Middlebury is an organization whose purpose is "to promote and supervise the athletic activities of the Woman's College, and to stimulate interest in all forms of physical exercise." Membership is open to any undergraduate who has the desire to include athletics in her extra-curricular activities. The authoritative powers rest in the hands of an executive board made up of officers of the organization, the heads of individual sports, the first assistant of the department of physical education, and a freshman representative. All events are supervised by students, who act in the capacities of referees, umpires, scorers, and timers. The highest award bestowed by the organization is the W. A. A. jacket, given to those who have earned the required thousand points, based on participation in major and minor sports, and on membership in championship and all-Midd teams. Members of all-Midd teams, chosen from among all the athletes of the Women's College, receive the letters M C in the form of a monogram; members of class teams, their class numerals; and managers of teams, a blue triangle with a white M in the center. In addition, a banner is awarded each year to the class which has shown itself to have the best all-round sportsmanship. This award is based on the number of championship teams, the proportionate number of girls competing in sports, and the number of all-Midd players, as well as the spirit of good-will and the support of the organization as a whole.

HOCKEY

The field hockey season, which extends from the end of September to the middle of October, was headed this year by Mary-Elizabeth Heward '39. This is the most popular of the fall sports, with a greater number of participants than any other. Approximately seventy-five women took part in giving support to their respective class teams.

Practices were conducted two weeks before the actual playing began. After this, inter-class games were played three times a week, with the sophomores finally winning the championship. Captains of the four teams were: 1939—Mary-Elizabeth Heward, 1940—Ruth O. Heig, 1941—Mary B. Whittlesey, 1942—Joan L. Calley.

Late in the season a hockey playday was held with members of the University of Vermont. This was the first time in three years that the two colleges have been able to carry out their plans, unsatisfactory weather having interfered with the arrangements of the previous two years. Twenty girls and two instructors made the trip and participated in the day's activities, which included games played by four mixed teams, made up of players from both Middlebury and U. V. M.

GOLF

While golfing enthusiasts still make a comparatively small number, the group of active participants is steadily increasing. There are both fall and spring tournaments in which any W. A. A. member may participate. The tournaments are in the form of

"ladder" events, in which a person on a lower rung on the ladder may challenge the person immediately above, and upon winning, advances a step. The person whose name finally appears at the top is acclaimed winner of the tourney. This year the head of the sport was Barbara H. Phelps '40.

WINTER SPORTS

Favorable weather conditions and contagious enthusiasm caused winter sports to gain a high rank in the W. A. A. activities of the season. Interest in skiing was stimulated by the opportunity to improve technique by lessons from Coach Arthur Schlatter and W. A. A. instructors.

Middlebury's first winter sports team was selected by Coach Schlatter and Richard E. Hubbard '36, former men's ski coach. The six girls named for all-around skiing ability were Frances E. Cornwall '40, head of winter sports, Virginia A. Orde '39, Helen E. Perkins '39, Barbara J. Plumer '40, Lucia D. Powell '41, and Margaret Goodell '42. Mr. Hubbard volunteered to coach the team in preparation for the invitation meet held during Winter Carnival.

Eight women's colleges from New England and New York were invited to send two contestants each, to take part in the events held on the Saturday morning of Winter Carnival week-end. The institutions represented were Connecticut College for Women, Elmira College, Jackson College for Women, University of New Hampshire, Russell Sage College, Skidmore College, St. Lawrence University, and University of Vermont. The contestants vied individually in the downhill and slalom events, held near Bread Loaf Mountain. The downhill race, run on the Worth Mountain trail, was won by Skidmore, with Miss Cornwall of Middlebury placing third. The slalom, run on the open slope, was won by Miss Perkins, with Miss Cornwall of Middlebury placing third. The slalom, run on the open slope, was won by Miss Perkins, with Miss Cornwall placing second, and Miss Orde fourth. Individual honors for the combined events went to Miss Cornwall and Miss Perkins in that order.

VOLLEYBALL

Under the management of Patricia May '40 the volleyball season came to an exciting finish with the class of 1941 finally triumphing over the juniors. Two rounds of games were played with practices beginning early in December. In both the first and the second series, the sophomores, led by Ruth Hardy, won all their games, and the junior team, under M. Elizabeth Robertson, was the runner-up. The class of '39 was captained by Mary H. Ladd, and the freshmen by Mary A. Tudbury.

TENNIS

Tennis is one of Middlebury's most popular fall and spring sports. An annual spring tournament, held on the Hepburn courts, is the most important event of the two seasons. The winner of this contest is awarded a cup, which if won three times becomes the permanent property of the winner.

A practice tournament is held in the fall, but these matches do not count toward the winning of the cup. They do help, however, in seeding the players for the spring tournney.

More than thirty girls entered the 1938 tournament, which was won by Barbara J. Plumer '40—her second successive win. Mary E. Donati '40 was the runner-up.

MODERN DANCING

A class in modern dancing was conducted by Elizabeth G. Heldman '39. While it cannot be strictly termed a sport, it comes under the activities of the W. A. A., and girls who participate are awarded points for W. A. A. credit.

At the conclusion of thirty hours study and practice, the group presented a recital, which emphasized short interpretive dances rather than the demonstration of exercises of former years.

FENCING

Fencing at Middlebury started in 1938 and through the efforts of the late Marion L. Young quickly gained the interest of a number of women. Under the leadership of Page R. Grosenbaugh '40 its popularity has spread and the group has increased considerably in size.

With James A. P. Turley '42 as instructor, those interested in the sport have had opportunities to try their skill not only among themselves, but with several members of the men's college.

BADMINTON

Late winter and early spring finds badminton in full swing. This year, under Faith S. Wohhus '40, the sport attracted more women athletes than ever before.

In order to earn W. A. A. credits, the athlete must have eight hours' practice and enter the tournament held at the close of the season. In this year's tournament, Carol E. Hubbard '41 emerged the victor, with Mary E. Donati '40 runner-up.

A new feature of the season was a mixed doubles tournament, in which the eight women who reached the quarter-finals were matched with the champions of the men's intramurals tournament. This was won by Miss Hubbard and Allan J. Cobb '41, who defeated the runners-up, Helen D. Rothery '41 and Boyd H. Carr '39.

BASEBALL

Baseball this year was headed by Esther L. Korn '40. As is customary interclass games were played, with both the girls of the physical education classes and those working for W. A. A. points participating. Before the weather conditions permitted outdoor games, the girls started their practice in the gymnasium.

HORSEBACK RIDING

Horseback riding is one of the favorite minor sports of the fall and spring seasons. Beginners are instructed in the fundamentals of riding in the vicinity of the Middlebury Fair Grounds. Advanced classes use more spirited horses, and enjoy riding to the Morgan Horse Farm, along Otter Creek, through Battell Forest, and out to the Mink Farm.

The instructors for the twenty-odd equestriennes are appointed by the physical education department, and are selected from members of the College and the town. This year the sport was headed by Helen Brewer '39.

ARCHERY

Helen D. Doyle '10 directed the activities of those interested in archery during the year. The season was climaxed by an interclass match held during Junior Week, at which time a cup was awarded to the girl making the highest score.

BASKETBALL

As one of the two major sports, basketball, led this year by Louise E. Dorchester '40, always attracts many enthusiasts. The main event is an interclass tournament, which begins after a two-week period of intensive practice.

This season the senior class team, led by Mary-Elizabeth Heward '39, won the championship after several keenly contested games. The freshmen, captained by Margaret Goodell '42, were runners-up in the tournament.

An interesting feature of the season was a combination game played by the all-Midd team and members of the U. V. M. women's team at a play-day held in Burlington early in the spring.

CABIN

Late in January the Marion L. Young cabin, constructed under the sponsorship of the W. A. A. on the order of a Swiss chalet and located on the road between East Middlebury and Lincoln, was formally initiated by fourteen senior women and thus opened for the use of all the members of the Women's College and their guests. The cabin is available for use throughout the college year, and serves well as a base camp for hiking and skiing parties.

The first floor contains a living room with a large fireplace and a dining alcove, together with a room for waxing and storing skis, a kitchen with modern conveniences and accommodations for chaperones. In the second story are two large rooms with sleeping facilities for twenty-five persons.

Marilynn Manning '39 was in charge of the furnishings and accommodations of the cabin from its opening until the end of the school year. Under her supervision were the arrangements for week-end and overnight parties.
Organizations
Opportunities to participate in group activities abound in a small liberal arts college like Middlebury. Administrative, fraternal, journalistic, musical, honorary and other types of organizations help to develop initiative, self-assurance, leadership, and a spirit of cooperation—qualities so necessary in the world today.

"... The regulation of college dances, entertainments, and social gatherings is in the hands of the Committee on Student Life." — Regulations of Middlebury College.
While carrying out its duties as executive body of the Undergraduate Association, acting as discretionary supervisor of all extra-curricular activities, student election procedures, control of all organizations, and general policies of the Men's College, the Student Council also worked on and accomplished many changes in the 1938-39 school year.

The Student Council has been especially active this year in working on plans to revise the constitution of the Undergraduate Association.

The membership of the Council is made up of the president of the Undergraduate Association, the presidents of the four men's classes, a representative of publications, and the presidents of Waubanakee, Blue Key, and the "M" Club.

Student Union Officers

Drown Robertson Forman Burditt
In the Student Union this year few changes were made in the executive, legislative, or judicial boards, but the social committee, a part of the Student Union, has adopted many new policies.

Among them is the experimental three-year plan to make Forest Hall a senior dormitory. Other changes include a grant of an extra half hour on Saturday night to those who do not attend fraternity informals; a specially arranged monthly meeting of the Student Union with entertainment provided; a public reading of the names of those who violate Student Union rules; and formal dress for concerts and entertainments sponsored by the social committee.

Other innovations were seen in the form of football coffees, held after home games; and a picture rental service which enables members of the Women's College to have copies of fine pictures in their rooms.
Although these associations work independently, better interfraternity relations, cleaner rushing, and higher scholarship are the mutual aims of the Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils. The organizations are composed of a junior and senior representative from each fraternity and sorority. Officers of the Interfraternity Council are elected by these representatives, while the presidency of Panhellenic is held by each sorority chapter rotating by order of its establishment at Middlebury.

The most important rushing reform on the men's campus was the establishment of the intensive one-week rushing period. The former quota limit of fifteen remained in use, together with the progressive fine for overpledging.

Following a policy initiated several years ago, representatives were sent to the National Interfraternity Conference held in New York City late in November. Among other activities, this year saw the successful establishment of the Middlebury Cooperative Buying Society, which makes cooperative purchases of supplies for all fraternity houses.

The main change in women's rush was a pledge quota decreased from nine to seven, because of an unusually small entering class. The open list system, whereby each sorority knows what girls are being rushed, was retained as a useful feature.

Other activities ran in the customary channels. Marjorie N. Burditt '40 received the Panhellenic award for scholarship and extra-curricular activities. The Panhellenic cup, awarded each semester to that sorority attaining the highest scholastic average for a semester, was held by Alpha Xi Delta and Pi Beta Phi.

The highest undergraduate honorary award in the Men's College is election to Waubanakee. Tapping takes place during Junior Week, when the retiring members choose new “papouses” from the junior class. The number chosen is exceedingly small, as only the most outstanding members of the class are elected. In fact, its quota of nine members has not been filled since 1918.

Character, scholarship, extra-curricular activity, and, in general, the manifestation of the truest Middlebury spirit, are the qualities taken into consideration in choosing men for this honor.

The organization is purely honorary, as most of its duties have been taken over by the Blue Key. Its main purpose now is to further closer cooperation between administration and undergraduates, and to “institute new practices and revive old customs.” Its insignia are a gold tomahawk pin and a black hat with a tomahawk embroidered on the front.

Waubanakee
Mortar Board

An outstanding record in curricular and extra-curricular activities, as well as qualities of service and leadership, are the factors considered in electing members to this women’s honorary society. Tapping takes place in the spring at a meeting of Student Union, the members being chosen from the incoming senior class.

A chapter of a national organization, its purpose is to advance the spirit of fellowship among the college women and to promote high standards of scholarship.

Today its main functions are cooperating with the faculty in vocational guidance programs and making arrangements for freshman activities—the outstanding event being an outing to Bread Loaf in the fall, which includes a supper and pageant. Each year it honors freshmen and sophomores with dean’s list averages at a May Day breakfast, and also awards the Mortar Board cup to the sophomore woman who is most representative of her class.
"M" Club

Because of certain changes instigated by the Student Life Committee in the spring of 1937, the "M" Club, at that time, was divested of all active responsibilities on campus, and became a solely honorary organization composed of all men, undergraduates and alumni, who had earned a major athletic letter.

From 1926, when the club was first organized, its importance increased yearly. Its major function was to purchase letters and sweaters for the winners of varsity awards. In order to finance this, the "M" Club conducted the dances at the gymnasium, but because of an inability to make a financial success of these dances, the Undergraduate Association was compelled to make up the difference in the purchases of sweaters. Since the financial conditions were not improved, the responsibility of sponsoring the dances was passed on to the Student Council. These changes affecting the "M" Club have invested it with a new significance, and in spite of its honorary nature, the new dignity which it has assumed has enabled it to perform more efficiently its original purpose of fostering athletics at Middlebury.

As any man wins a varsity sweater, he automatically becomes a life member of the "M" Club. Those sports awarding major letters are football, hockey, basketball, track, and baseball. The managers of these sports, together with the freshman football manager and the intramural manager are eligible for membership.

Each year in May the "M" Club holds its annual meeting for the purpose of electing its officers. This is the only official gathering of the group during the year.

The Blue Key is a purely honorific society, consisting of members of the three upper classes who have shown excellence in college activities. The society was founded in 1930 by a merger of the Sages, a junior society, and the Delta Taus, a sophomore organization. From 1930 until 1937, Blue Key had gradually acquired many petty functions. The sale of freshman rules and caps was under its jurisdiction, as well as the purchase of awards for championship teams. It was also the custom for the Blue Key to act as freshman overseers; its members had the privilege of seeing that incoming freshmen maintained a proper attitude toward Middlebury's customs and upperclassmen. Finally, the Blue Key assumed the duties as unofficial host to visiting athletic teams.

In 1937, after the society had relapsed into a moribund state, an undergraduate committee divested the Blue Key of its various functions and turned them over to other organizations, leaving the Blue Key a strictly honorific society. This year, however, the Blue Key, with a revised constitution and a wish to revive itself, has been delegated to handle the buying of athletic awards, and has acted on several occasions as a freshman prompter.

Every year, late in spring, new Blue Key members are tapped at a chapel service. Members are selected on the basis of extra-curricular activities, but scholarship, college spirit, and character are also considered. As each new member is tapped, he is draped with the traditional blue ribbon and blue key which are the symbols of the society.

In an effort to create a unified organization spirit, the Blue Key purchased crew hats of dark blue material, mounted with a light blue key. During the fall, they took charge of football rallies, and took charge of the sale of programs and souvenirs, in order to obtain money with which to purchase gold footballs for Middlebury's state championship football team.

Mountain Club

Middlebury's largest and most active organization, the Mountain Club, is organized to sponsor and encourage out-of-door activities not under the jurisdiction of the Athletic Council. Carefully planned trips, ranging from hikes to ski parties, provide Sunday pleasure for a great many students who otherwise would be unable to enjoy the naturally beautiful environs which surround Middlebury.

In the fall, every Sunday that the weather permitted, hikes were run to the surrounding mountains. There were also several ski hikes to Bread Loaf, as well as an overnight trip, in October, to Glen Ellen Lodge, and an overnight snowshoe hike to the Lincoln-Warren Pass in March.

The Skyline, the club's legislative group, consists of twelve members from each of the three upper classes. From within this body, nine members are chosen to comprise the governing board, in which the executive and motivating powers are vested.

Each year two representatives from the Skyline attend the annual three-day conference of the Intercollegiate Outing Club Association, of which Middlebury is a member.

This year's Winter Carnival, sponsored by the Mountain Club and led by Porter H. Evans '10 and Jean M. Sweeney '40, was the most successful since the Carnival's inauguration in 1932.

A new tryout system for freshmen interested in Skyline was initiated this year under the direction of William P. Herrmann '39, president of the club. A compulsory first aid course was one of the requirements. This course was given by a Red Cross instructor, and upon successful completion, a standard first aid certificate was awarded. In addition, a written examination was given, covering the general set-up of Mountain Club, its rules and by-laws, the administration of the Winter Carnival, and the specifications and qualifications for Skyline members. The men were also given a question on map work, while the women were asked about the duties of the Commissary. In this way, an attempt was made to establish an unbiased system for selecting freshman members.
Several changes in administrative methods were inaugurated with the advent of the new board in March, 1938. The sports department of Middlebury’s student weekly was alternately headed by the men assistant editors, no regular sports editor having been chosen. A system of beats, similar to those of professional newspapers, was worked out for the news staff, but was dropped in June. By a revision of the outgoing business staff, the posts of credit manager and circulation manager replaced the old titles of woman’s associate manager and women’s associate advertising manager.

The main technical changes were noticeable in the increased page size of the issue and in a new dress for main headlines. The 1938-39 subscription price was raised again to three dollars from the two-dollar rate charged in 1937-38. In this college publication, as in professional newspapers throughout the country, a decline in the volume of advertising was noted.

The main editorial policies dealt with national and international issues very frequently, in an attempt to awaken student interest on these subjects. An interesting editorial on the moribund state of the Blue Key was presumed to be largely responsible for the revival of this organization. In general, the editorials were interesting and of a thought-provoking nature, usually apropos of timely campus questions.
In contrast to the pictorial 1938 edition and last year's encyclopedia edition, the 1940 KALEIDOSCOPE board had endeavored to produce a book which will record the college year through a satisfactory balance of both story and picture.

An appropriate theme, using as its main idea the benefits of a college education in relation to the world after undergraduate life, welds the necessary divisions together into a unified whole.

Because of its importance as a written record, and not as a scrapbook, the style of presentation throughout has been more or less formal—a rule not always observed in college annuals, as evidenced by the more recent publications of several other institutions.

The Kaleidoscope board is composed of an editorial staff and a business staff, headed by an editor-in-chief and a business manager. The board meets annually in May to elect a new group—selected from among the tryouts of the editorial and business staffs—which functions for the remainder of the college year and during the following year until the time of publication.

Throughout its preparation the 1940 KALEIDOSCOPE has been not only in the hands of the editor and the business manager themselves, but those of a large group of tryouts as well. These men and women have served to inject into its production both originality and diversity of thought, have faithfully borne the brunt of routine work, and have kept the book from being the product of the intense personalism of a one-man job.

Departing from its staid literary tradition, the Saxonian, Middlebury's magazine of creative writing, has in the past three years made an effort to include stories of a lighter vein in order to counterbalance the usual serious literary trials ordinarily found in student publications of this type. Founded in 1922 by the English Club, the magazine has been issued periodically throughout the school year.

The chief purpose of the publication is to stimulate an interest in creative writing among the undergraduates, who otherwise would have no sponsor for their efforts. The trend in recent years has been to include a balance of short stories, poems, and essays, accompanied by descriptive sketches and photographs.

In order to encourage the student writer further, the Saxonian board holds a number of prize contests annually in the various forms of expression. Faculty members judge these contests, and the winning contributions are published in the magazine.

The editorial staff, which selects from the contributions the pieces to be printed, is chosen annually from those who have had material published during the year. Selection is based on quality and ability as well as on the quantity of contributions accepted. The business staff is chosen by a regular system of tryouts, and its individual members are judged on their efficiency and dependability.

The traditional freshman Handbook was published this year, greatly enlarged in scope and containing material of interest to not only the freshmen, but to the College in general. The first major innovation was the appearance of a section devoted to the individual pictures of the entering class. This improvement was designed primarily to aid fraternities and sororities during rushing, and to enable the freshmen to become more easily acquainted with each other.

Also included in the Handbook this year was the College Directory, formerly published by the editor's office. In addition to these features the Handbook contains a brief history of the College and a summary of Middlebury traditions, the constitutions of most of the important organizations on campus, accounts of many other undergraduate groups, a list of prize awards, honorary societies, holiday events and social features.

Omitting the usual "Who's Who," the Handbook instead listed prominent individuals with their particular organization affiliations and awards. The constitutions that are included have been brought up-to-date, and others have been added, among them that of the Panhellenic Council. Included also is a "Mountain Club Guide" which lists several interesting local trails with complete hiking directions.

The cover design was unique in that it was essentially a panoramic study of the entire campus. Replete with building name identifications, it represented a thoughtful attempt to give the newcomer a handy map of the campus so that he might quickly learn his way about the various buildings.

This student publication first appeared in the fall of 1922 with the purpose of imparting general information about the College and its history. From that year on, it has been published annually for distribution without cost to members of the College.

SET FOR "THE NIGHT OF JANUARY SIXTEENTH"
Dramatic activities for the year were characterized by the well-balanced program offered by the dramatics department. During the year, the Middlebury Playhouse was the scene of four major plays, directed by Professor Goodreds, and several experimental plays, directed by students majoring in drama.

The first major production of the year, "Room Service," a boisterous comedy, was presented early in November. The misadventures of a Broadway producer and his entourage delighted the audience from the very beginning of the fast-moving farce. The cast heightened the interest and pleasure in this, the funniest of George Abbott's productions, into which was injected the spirit of the "Great White Way."

Contrasting with the first production, the second long play, "Accent on Youth," made its appearance at Thanksgiving. High comedy of a more sophisticated nature was represented in this drama which concerned the problems of youth and old age. In the closely interwoven drama by Samuel Raphaelson, a master at character portraiture, the life of a middle-aged, successful playwright is revealed. Writing a play somewhat autobiographical in nature, he discovers a missing element when his young secretary, who loves him, hands in her resignation. From her the play builds to an exciting climax, which was well executed by the Middlebury players. Often a difficult play to comprehend, "Accent on Youth" was aptly cast, and its presentation was greatly appreciated by its audiences.

Lending variety to the activities of the year, the next Playhouse program consisted of three student-directed experimental plays. Offering those students majoring in drama an opportunity to gain the practical experience so necessary in the approach to the appreciation and application of dramatics, these one-act dramatizations were quite successful. The plays were "Suppressed Desires," "Ten Room Cottage," and "Stepmother."

The tense action and excitement of a court trial, plus the natural interest created by a jury selected from the audience, characterized "The Night of January Sixteenth," which was produced—contrary to the assertion of the title—in March, preceding the spring recess. The unusual feature of picking a jury from the audience, as originally practiced in the New York production, added a note of intimacy to the presentation. The characters were well chosen for the court-room drama of unusual entrances, and a tempo as only a trial can set was developed by the players. A very real addition to the enthusiasm with which the play was greeted was the excellent court-room set of realistic design.

Though not a part of the dramatic activities, the Playhouse has been the scene of many voice recordings, with an aim of increasing effective speech at Middlebury. During a portion of the year, regular activity was suspended by the Playhouse, originally a church and now in its ninety-eighth year, in order to provide for the addition of new and greatly needed stage space. New sound equipment was tested by showing the motion picture, "Anna Christie."
The Glee Club is a musical organization whose main event is an annual tour, on which concerts are given in many of the larger cities of the East. It is made up of thirty-five members of the college choir, who try out just before Christmas vacation.

After the selections are made from the college choir the group of thirty-five which is chosen goes into weeks of intensive practice to perfect the repertoire. The excellence with which the difficult polyphonic selections are given is a tribute to the supervision of Prof. H. Ward Bedford.

One of the aims of the tours is to establish contact with sub-freshman groups, and to stimulate outside interest in Middlebury. Concerts were given this year at preparatory schools, among them being Cushing Academy. At the Westminster Choir School in New Jersey, the group was paid a high tribute by the director of this institution, Dr. John Finley Williamson, who said that the Middlebury Glee Club was one of the finest groups of its kind in the country.

This year's tour was the largest ever undertaken by the club. Under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Bedford, the group traveled sixteen hundred miles and sang at fifteen concerts, six of which were broadcast. The program was a varied one, including classics, works of moderns, English folksongs, and negro spirituals. Robert V. Cushman '39 was outstanding as the soloist for the group. An innovation this year was the addition of a mixed quintet which rendered a number at each of the concerts. Among the cities touched by the Glee Club were Boston, New York, Washington, and Buffalo, where the singers were accorded enthusiastic receptions.

During the tour, several planned excursions to points of interest occupied the group's time between concerts. At Buffalo they were feted at a dinner before their concert in that city, and again for breakfast at the home of Mr. Samuel Botsford, a trustee of the College.

Just before leaving on their trip the Glee Club sings in Mead Chapel before the students and townspeople, in a concert given under the auspices of the A Tempo Club for the purpose of increasing that organization's scholarship fund.
The College choir is composed of upperclass members of both the Men's and Women's College, who are chosen by a system of general tryouts. Freshmen sing in a special group, which, although it includes upperclassmen in its membership, is designated as the freshman choir. At the end of the school year all undergraduates, freshmen included, who desire to join the choir, are given individual tryouts. Those selected become a part of the daily and Sunday chapel choir, and take part in these services.

On special occasions the college choir renders a concert which is always well attended by students and townspeople. These concerts usually are given at Easter and Christmas. As a grand climax to the work of the year, an oratorio is given late in the spring. While the oratorio is not limited to choir members, they usually make up a large part of the choral group. This year's oratorio, given with the assistance of three guest soloists, was the "Creation." This custom of oratorio singing was established three years ago, and promises to be a regular custom.

The freshman choir, while composed predominantly of freshmen, is augmented by those upperclassmen who fail to attain a place in the College choir in their tryouts, but still wish to continue with their singing. Usually at Christmas services, the freshmen make their début when they join the College choir in the singing of hymns and Christmas carols.

The Sunday vespers services are begun by the entrance of the choir singers, who enter from the vestibule and proceed to the choir seats in the chancel. At the conclusion of the reading of the text, a specially selected anthem, led by the director, Mr. H. Ward Bedford, is sung by the choir. The services are always closed with a rendition of the benediction.

The “old Midd spirit” gains its vim and vigor from the College band. During the fall this organization sees its most active season. Thirty-eight strong, it marches down the football field, playing familiar marches and college songs. During the year 1938-39 it was led by Drum Major John W. Holt '41.

This year the band was augmented in several sections by players from the town of Middlebury. The group participates in the Armistice Day program and at the annual Barbecue during Senior Week. In the spring members of the college band may be found in the bandstand on Middlebury’s common, where they join the town band in presenting occasional evening concerts.

In the fall, the band followed the football team to the Tufts and Norwich games, forming a nucleus around which the exceptionally large crowds of Middlebury rooters could rally.

The recent policy of the music department has been to cut down from a large organization to a smaller one which includes only those who are best qualified to play. In that way, the group is able to work with the more difficult compositions, impossible with the larger, less skilled group. At present there are approximately twenty-five members in the college orchestra. With a group of this size, an effort has been made to perform music of the little symphony nature. Some of the finest instrumental music has been written by the great composers for an orchestra of this size.

The orchestra rehearses three times a week, giving four concerts during the course of a year. Various concerts feature the different sections of the orchestra. Soloists this year have included Cameron McGraw '40, pianist, and Jessie W. Matthew '41, contralto. Ruth Picard, pianist, and Pearl Berman, a fifteen-year-old violin prodigy and pupil of Mishel Piastro, have been the outside soloists. The last program featured compositions for brass, tympani, drums, and organ.

Early, classical, romantic, and modern periods in music have been represented. Early compositions included “Trumpet Voluntary,” by Henry Purcell; “Vive le Roi,” by André Raison; “Christmas Concerto,” by Corelli; and “Concerto Grosso,” by Vivaldi. Mozart’s “G Minor Symphony,” “D Minor Piano Concerto,” and “A Major Concerto for Violin” and Beethoven’s “Prometheus Overture” were works from the classical period. The romantic type of music was best exemplified in “Prélude” and “Berceuse” by Järnefelt. Three songs, “Christmas Lullaby,” “Consolation,” and “Broceliande,” written by Mr. Harold M. Frantz, typified the modern period.

During the first semester Mrs. Harold M. Frantz acted as director of the chamber music group of the orchestra. Mr. Edwin Sherard, concertmeister of the Vermont Symphony Orchestra, acted in the same capacity during her absence in the second semester. This group played a Mozart piano quartet and a quintet for piano and strings, “Opus 1,” by Dohnanyi.

Through the acquisition of an oboe and a French horn, the orchestra is gradually developing players of unusual instruments. Mr. Frantz occasionally turns over his baton to Martha E. Taylor '40, assistant conductor. While this is a still growing organization, the department now plans to send sections of the orchestra on tour in the near future.

The primary purpose of the Women's Forum is to instigate an interest among undergraduates in current national and international problems. On this basis is built a year's program of speakers, discussions, and social work. Among this year's meetings were the lectures by Mrs. Vera Dean, authority on international affairs; Prof. Colston Warne of Amherst, president of the Consumers' Union and authority on cooperatives; and Professor Davis of Middlebury, keen observer of the Spanish revolution.

The group is affiliated with the International Relations Clubs, which sponsors the International Relations Conferences attended each year by representatives from similar college groups. Jane Dale '39 was Middlebury’s delegate to the 1938 conferences.

Included in the year’s program was the customary Christmas party for underprivileged children, which was given at the Community House. A new service was attempted this year, with member volunteers caring for small children whose parents were attending church. Similar social work will be carried on next year.

The two-fold aim of the A Tempo Club—to encourage musical interest and to provide an opportunity for students with musical ability to perform before the group and in Sunday evening musicales—is illustrated by the membership requirements. Only juniors and seniors who have taken, or intend to take, at least one course in the music department, and who have had practical experience in some form of musical expression, are eligible. Monthly meetings are held on Sunday evening in the Carnegie Room of the music studio, with such programs as one devoted to recordings of “Aida,” another on medieval instruments, and a third on the development of the art song. The Victrola and the members furnish musical examples.

The major accomplishment of the organization is the awarding of a scholarship which permits a member of the Women’s College to study voice, violin, piano, or organ in the college music department for one year. This scholarship is awarded on the basis of financial need, ability, and scholastic rating. Geraldine M. Dansereau ’40 was the recipient of this year’s scholarship. Formerly called the A Tempo scholarship, it was renamed this year the Grace Hathaway scholarship, in tribute to an enthusiastic and interested friend whose death was deeply felt by the entire campus. The chief means of financing the fund has been the Arthur Murray dance exhibition, and the A Tempo sponsorship of the home concert of the Glee Club.

The weekly musicales, chiefly voice, piano, or organ recitals, formerly presented on Friday afternoons by two members of the faculty or student body, were changed this year to an hour musicale on Sunday evenings.
The women's debating team completed its 1938-39 schedule with two encounters which resulted in favorable decisions, and eight non-decision debates. The team bested the University of Vermont and Upsala College, the former being defeated by Middlebury's arguments in favor of government usage of public funds to stimulate business, and the latter on the proposition of an Anglo-American alliance, with Middlebury again assuming the affirmative.

The question of the Anglo-American alliance was also debated at Boston University and Rhode Island State Teachers' College; Frances Kellogg and Gertrude Bittle upheld the affirmative side for Middlebury. Another New England trip included Keene Normal School and Salem Teachers' College, while still another took in the University of Maine and Colby College. In the New York area, they encountered the team from Elmira College.

Though there were only three varsity debaters to strengthen this year's squad, several good recruits were selected from the pre-season tryouts. The Debating Council, made up of faculty members, was greatly aided in selecting new members for the team by a recording machine which was recently purchased by the department. The machine also makes it possible to keep a record of past debaters' voices in order that they may be used as examples for aspiring undergraduates.

Women's Debating Team
Retaining its usual high standards, Middlebury's men's debating team contended for honors with some of the leading colleges and universities of the East, as well as with visiting teams from foreign countries. This year the schedule included opponents from such institutions as Dartmouth, Yale, Princeton, Bates, Union, Bucknell, and University of Vermont.

Upon several occasions the debaters successfully upheld the affirmative on the question of governmental use of public funds to stimulate business, though upon the same proposition they were forced to bow to the superior arguments of the negative side taken by Bucknell. Against Hamilton and Dartmouth the team took the negative stand on the proposition that the United States should not go to war unless invaded, and were successful only against the former. Other successes came at the expense of Drew, Princeton, and Williams.

Debating at Middlebury aims to lead students to keep themselves informed on pertinent topics, to think logically, and to develop the ability to think and speak with confidence before an audience. Toward achieving this end, various prizes are awarded annually to those who excel in debating.

Social Activities
The ability to participate in social functions of all types is a requisite of modern society. Middlebury undergraduates are afforded opportunities to attend and develop the usages of practically every type of social activity. Dances, teas, amateur dramatic productions, rallies, and other entertainment features take place throughout the college year. Representative of these are Middlebury’s four big week-end holidays—Homecoming, Winter Carnival, Junior Week, and Senior Week.
With the largest homecoming crowd in its history in attendance, Middlebury's annual alumni week-end moved into reality on the evening of October 21. Both town and college were prepared to receive the multitude of visitors attracted by the football contest with the University of Vermont which was to occur the following afternoon.

At 7:30 p.m. the majority of the college and its guests were assembled in McCullough gymnasium to participate in and witness the traditional pre-game rally. After speeches and singing the assemblage moved to Porter Field, with the support of a revived Frosh P-Rade, for more speeches, a bonfire and refreshments.

The Frosh P-Rade, a traditional function in which all members of the freshman class of the men's college are expected to participate, was revived in milder form after a suspension caused by the disastrous results of two years previous. Featuring the idiotic, but quite appropriate pranks of the younger undergraduates, supported by the college band and flaming torches, the P-Rade furnished an appropriate accompaniment to the prevailing holiday spirit.
Fortunately, the high-spirited exertions of the rally were not dispelled on the following afternoon when Middlebury's eleven defeated a primed-for-victory Catamount team. Throughout a nip-and-tuck battle Middlebury held its own. The beginning of the fourth quarter saw no score for either side and in the closing minutes of the game a spectacular forward pass from Mahoney to Kirk carried the ball, the game, and the loyal crowd over the goal line into joyous, unanticipated victory.

Few homecoming week-ends since the official inception of this event in 1928 have been as satisfactory or as successful. This year the souvenirs distributed to alumni and alumnae registering at the Egbert Starr library took the form of two feathers, in patriotic white and blue colors, to be pinned to the recipient's clothing.

Saturday evening marked the social climax of the week-end's activities with informal dances at the various fraternity houses and a well-attended informal dance at the gym.
By far the most successful week-end since this holiday’s inauguration, the 1938 Winter Carnival outdistanced those of previous years in snow, show, fun and frivolity.

Beginning with the coronation pageant at Forest Hall, where king and queen Joseph M. Trask ’39 and Margaret B. Ray ’39 were crowned by President Moody, activities moved on to McCullough Gymnasium, where the annual Carnival Ball was held. Changed this year by student vote from a costume dance to a strictly formal affair, the ball featured Glenn Miller and his orchestra, from New York.

“Russian Revels,” an all-student musical comedy starring Margaret A. Heald ’40 and Roswell D. Schenck ’41, provided the dramatic interest for the holiday. Gay costumes, colorful scenery, bright songs and lyrics, and novel dance routines were predominant in this annual carnival feature.

Not to be outdone by the attractions of the social events, Middlebury's ski team climaxed the week-end's activities by nosing out a hard-fighting New Hampshire squad to win the meet held at Bread Loaf and on Chipman Hill.

The women's side of winter sports was not forgotten, for a women's ski meet, replacing the women's jubilee of former carnival programs, was held at Bread Loaf Saturday morning. Representatives of eight New England colleges competed individually in downhill and slalom races.

Referred to as a "free-for-all" by the New York Herald Tribune, the traditional Klondike Rush provided informal relaxation for the Saturday night throng which crowded the gym after the skiing activities of the day.

Carnival Ball.
Originally intended as a period in which to introduce prospective undergraduates to the Middlebury campus, Junior Week has come to be the last social event on the calendar before the gruelling experiences of comprehensives and finals. Started in 1907 with a distinct athletic flavor, the holiday has become now a combination of both social and athletic functions—predominantly the former.

Particularly varied in its program, Junior Week this year included activities both pleasing in content and execution. Outstanding in the diversified list of events was the presentation, at the Playhouse on Wednesday evening, of a performance of "Candida."

Perhaps the formal dance most eagerly looked forward to in every college year is the annual Junior Prom. In 1938 hopes were rewarded with five hours of dancing to Artie Shaw’s music in a gym decorated with a May-pole theme. On the same day athletic activities got under way with a baseball game against U. V. M. and tennis matches with a team sent to Middlebury by the same university.
Friday was not lacking for excitement. Activities began at an early hour with invitation breakfasts at the various fraternity houses followed in the afternoon by tennis with St. Michael’s netmen and the junior tea dance at the Middlebury Inn. The Interfraternity-Panhellenic variety show at McCullough gymnasium and Waubansee tapping served to provide another evening’s entertainment.

The two lower classes of undergraduates are usually accorded the “distinction” for much of the tomfoolery that transpires during a college year. Recognizing the responsibility for providing this, the members of both the freshman and sophomore classes participated in the usual annual holocaust of rope-pull and greased pole climb. Although the one is damp and the other messy and rather hard on clothes, both were vigorous displays of scenes typical on many of the campuses throughout the country.
JUNIOR WEEK

A welcome relaxation from the events of the morning and the athletic activities of the afternoon—baseball with Norwich and tennis with St. Lawrence—were the "open house" dances of Saturday evening at all fraternity houses.

Traditional with Junior Week is the annual Band Concert and Fraternity-Sorority Sing. Although the weather had held up remarkably well during the preceding days, Sunday saw Middlebury immersed in one of its many spring showers, thus forcing these activities indoors. They were, nevertheless, a most fitting conclusion to an enjoyable week-end holiday.

JUNIOR WEEK

D. U. Skit

From "Candida"
Marked by insistent showers which forced Commencement celebrants indoors for the first time in nearly a decade, Senior Week started on its path of dignified commotion and academic splendor with one of the quietest Class Days on record. Instead of the usual hubbub on the lower campus, visitors were greeted by twin loudspeakers emitting from the narrow confines of McCullough gymnasium. It was in this somewhat subdued atmosphere that the class of 1938 reviewed their quadrennial existence as undergraduates in the class history read by Claribel Nothnagle and Edward Hayward.

From the ceremony enacted in the gym the assemblage moved to the Battell campus for the traditional barbecue “under the big top” which was hardly large enough to accommodate the more than seven hundred interested persons gathered for the occasion. Meanwhile junior daisymaids draped Old Chapel steps with their floral chain so that all whom the rain had forced indoors during the march from Hepburn might view their flowered garlands. To carry out the theme of P. T. Barnum, a midway was located next to the entrance to the "big top" without benefit of the usual peanut vendor or balloon salesman.

Statistics have it that this auspicious occasion was the center of the largest alumni gathering under one tent on record. To entertain this gathering presented no easy problem, but it was adequately solved in the revival of dance routines from the Winter Carnival show "Southern Style." Featured also as part of the afternoon’s activities was the benedictory address of Judge Noonan, retiring president of the national alumni association.

As traditional as Gamaliel Painter’s cane is the annual baseball encounter between the odd- and even-yeared alumni and 1938 saw the evens victorious. Finishing in time for the spectators to move to the President’s house for the customary reception, the players accompanied them to their destination to help consume gallon upon gallon of ice cream.
No account of the last few carefree days of the Class of 1938 would be complete without some mention of the last social event of the college year 1937-1938, and for the seniors themselves, the last social function as undergraduates of Middlebury College. The annual Senior Ball, held Thursday night at the Middlebury Inn, lent this social note to the busy list of activities for Senior Week. Featuring the "Dixie" orchestra of Tommy Reynolds, the dance, held under the auspices of the Senior Class, attracted many, the majority of whom were members of the graduating class. The inn, decorated in the colors of the college, blue and white, gave a cooling atmosphere to the proceedings.

The solemn service of the Baccalaureate was further solemnified by the dedication of a memorial garden to Mother Mason near Hepburn. Later the same day a scene, equally as moving, took place. This year the final senior rite, step-singing, was moved from Pearsons Hall to the arcade of Forest Hall.
Monday saw visitors, dignitaries, faculty, alumni and students gathered for the climaxing event to the week's activities—Commencement. The College chose to honor at this Commencement Kenneth L. Roberts, Litt.D.; Birney C. Batcheller, L.L.D.; Robert Seneca Smith, D.D.; Eunice Fuller Barnard, M.A.; and Robert L. Duffus, L.L.D., who served as Commencement speaker. With the newly constructed galleries filled to capacity and augmented by the crowded main floor, standing room was all that remained for the many others in attendance who sought admission to the exercises. To a class of eighty-two men and sixty-nine women Speaker Duffus delivered a stirring address upon a theme which was being reiterated at similar exercises throughout the country. He chose as his topic "Democracy and the Individual."
Acknowledgment

While the responsibility for the production of the 1940 Kaleidoscope lies to a great extent in the hands of the editor, a book such as this could not have been made possible without the advice and assistance of a number of people who were content to do their work faithfully and cheerfully behind the scenes, but contributing greatly to the success of this publication. It is to these people we wish to express our indebtedness:

To a large group of men and women tryouts, who have worked long hours throughout the year gathering facts, writing articles, planning layouts, and generally carrying out their assigned duties.

To Mr. A. W. Gove and Mrs. Mark Turner, whose expert and unselfish work resulted in superior photography throughout the book. For candid camera pictures and excellent work on the "Social Activities" section—Almy D. Coggeshall and Stanley B. Saunders.

To Mr. Russell C. Knight, of the Bickford Engraving Co., whose technical assistance in design have proved to be invaluable.

To Mr. Harry M. Blodgett and the staff of the Free Press Printing Co., for expert craftsmanship and advice.

To various members of the faculty and student body, whose interest and assistance have helped to solve a great many problems—Mr. W. Storrs Lee and his staff, Mrs. Pamela S. Powell, Robert F. Pickard, D. Jane Acker, Betty Forman, John K. Ross, and George F. Cook.

That’s what you should get from every light in your home if you and your family are to avoid eyestrain. Now you can know just exactly what measure of light every lamp gives. The Sightmeter is scientifically designed to measure light accurately. Light is measured in footcandles, and one footcandle is the intensity of light obtained one foot from the flame of a candle. From 20 to 30 footcandles is the amount required on a book at reading level if eyestrain is to be avoided. Don’t guess about light, be sure.
